Safe firearms storage

Responsible firearm ownership is something we at the Sporting Shooters' Association of Australia (SSAA) take very seriously. In fact, we have a long history of bringing the topic of firearm safety into the spotlight through our magazines, website and many other publications.

In 1999, we encouraged SSAA clubs to focus on safe firearm storage by providing each club with a Secure Your Gun, Secure Your Sport poster for prominent display at their ranges. In 2005 we launched the Secure Your Gun, Secure Your Sport campaign. Progressing on from our desire to create greater awareness among our members and the shooting fraternity about secure firearms storage, we created the National Gun Safe Voucher Program, which ran in 2009 and received support from the firearms industry and the then Minister for Home Affairs, the Hon Brendan O'Connor.

Firearms safety and storage is an ongoing issue and deserves your attention as a legitimate firearms owner, sporting shooter and recreational hunter. The security of each firearm is up to the individual in possession of it. It is, however, up to all of us to do the right thing to protect our sport. So, ensure you have a secure means of storing your firearms and encourage your mates to do the same.

Police-approved safes are available in a variety of sizes and at a range of prices, meaning there is something for everyone and there is never any excuse for failing to properly secure your firearms. Remember, no matter how good a safe is, it still needs to be installed properly, so if you don't have the skills or time to install your safe, please engage a professional.

In an effort to help you be a responsible firearms owner who securely stores your firearms, we have listed a selection of commercially available safes. Please note that any prices listed are approximate and can vary.

For additional information regarding the storage and transportation of firearms, including on flights and when importing or exporting items through Customs, as well as contact details for each firearms registry, please visit ssaa.org.au/licensing

...a larger than life experience among towering timber

Lure of chasing pesky porkers entices hunters

B... of the high season of hunting wild hares and wallabies, hunters are flocking to the bush to chase these elusive creatures. The lure of the chase is a powerful one, and many hunters find themselves spending hours in the bush, tracking their quarry. The hunt is a thrilling experience, and the sense of achievement when a quarry is finally brought down is a great feeling. The hunt is also a great way to spend time in the bush, and to enjoy the beauty of the Australian landscape.

A dangerous adversary that provides the perfect challenge

P... of the bush is a dangerous place, and there are many threats to the life of the hunter. One of the most dangerous threats is the presence of wild animals, such as dingoes and crocodiles. These animals are a real threat to the life of the hunter, and they can cause a great deal of damage. The hunt is a dangerous activity, and it is important to be aware of the risks involved. The hunt is also a great way to spend time in the bush, and to enjoy the beauty of the Australian landscape.

The damage they cause to crops and grain paddocks can be extensive

An introduction to metal detecting

A... of the bush is a dangerous place, and there are many threats to the life of the hunter. One of the most dangerous threats is the presence of wild animals, such as dingoes and crocodiles. These animals are a real threat to the life of the hunter, and they can cause a great deal of damage. The hunt is a dangerous activity, and it is important to be aware of the risks involved. The hunt is also a great way to spend time in the bush, and to enjoy the beauty of the Australian landscape.

Cruising the Savannah Way

Dick Brown

E... of the bush is a dangerous place, and there are many threats to the life of the hunter. One of the most dangerous threats is the presence of wild animals, such as dingoes and crocodiles. These animals are a real threat to the life of the hunter, and they can cause a great deal of damage. The hunt is a dangerous activity, and it is important to be aware of the risks involved. The hunt is also a great way to spend time in the bush, and to enjoy the beauty of the Australian landscape.

On upon a time... some 65 million years ago, a magical land in the south-west of Western Australia stood tall as eucalyptus climate change drastically altered the world around it. Building its ground to emerge victorious from a battle that raged for thousands of years, this ancient empire formed a culture. Welcome to the Valley of the Ginties. Here a Tree Top Walk in Walpole-Nornalup National Park provides a longer than life experience, among towering timber. Grab a hot eye view walking 400m above ground atop the 400m of very dead trees as the bush environment takes you through the tree tops.

The best high-flying view traversed the tops of the giant tree trunks in August 1996. The structure was built to allow visitors to see close and personal tree top experience that does not damage the fragile trees. The shallow roots mean they are super sensitive to soil compaction from people and vehicles traversing their bases. "Thoughtfully designed to resemble the local tassel ferns (Zantedeschia aethiopica) and sweet grass (Zanderya aethiopica), the bridge's supporting pylons blend with the surrounding forest - the arena, reminiscent of the shape of the second grass lot. Constructed of oak, they are transported and built on-site, every attempt was made to minimise impact. Walking along the tree tops is the ultimate way to experience the magnitude of your breathing surroundings. You'll hear birds singing and feel invigorated by the crisp breeze, hitting your skin. Arrows along the way provide opportunities to stop and capture that perfect picture or feed the birds or just pause to take it all in. It's a truly magical experience that you won't want to miss. The walk is a truly magical experience that you won't want to miss. The walk is a truly magical experience that you won't want to miss.
